DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN

DATES TO MARCH 8.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The Senate Republican caucus agreed this morning upon the standing committees.

The subject of the Secretary of the Treasury was mentioned, but laid over, it being understood that the President will withdraw his message on the subject and Stewart will necessarily retire. The canvass showed that if brought to a vote, Congress would overwhelmingly refuse to repeal the act. It is rumored that in the case is withdrawn, Stewart and Hoar will resign and make way for the appointment of Boutwell to the Treasury, and Lyman Freeman will be appointed Attorney General.

It is reported that the Denver Pacific Railroad bill, which was unsigned by the President's mistake, is now a law.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—The Telegraph's Washington special describes a conversation between Blaine and the President. The latter said that as Blaine was Speaker of the House, and under the circumstances had a right to know, he would therefore be frank and say that Stewart had concluded to resign, and that Massachusetts delegation would withdraw Hoare at the latter's request and he would appoint Boutwell to the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—An immense number of applications for office have been received at the Executive office. It is decided that applications must be made to the Secretary of the Department in which appointments are solicited. The President will not consider applications until they have passed through the heads of the Departments to which they pertain.

The friends of Griswold of New York are anticipating a change in the Cabinet. Last night they were urgently pressing him as Secretary of the Navy.

Commissioner Rollins, on the 6th, recommended to the President the immediate dismissal of John M. Binckley. The President to-day reported the matter to the Secretary of the Treasury, with the endorsement that the services of Binckley are no longer required by the Government, upon which Acting Secretary Hatley notified Binckley of his removal.

Secretary Washburne attended to his duties at the State Department to-day. A large number of members of Congress called. No changes are yet announced in positions.

The official notification of the acceptance of Washburne of the Secretaryship of State has been forwarded to each member of the resident diplomatic corps, with invitations to call on him as early as convenient.

Various rumors prevailed to day at the Capital and throughout the city relative to Cabinet changes. These rumors were founded more upon what politicians desired to accomplish than upon any approximation to facts.

It was stated in the Republican caucus to day, that the President would withdraw his request for the modification of the act establishing the Treasury Department, which it was thought would necessitate the withdrawal of Stewart and necessarily induce a change in the Cabinet programme; but Stewart has not returned and the statement is made on good authority, that he has been throughout in full accord with Grant; and that it has been distinctly understood between them that he will not allow himself or his appointment to embarrass the President in the slightest degree, and if it is deemed expedient by Congress to relieve Stewart, it is understood that he will withdraw. Stewart, however, will not recede if he can accommodate his extensive business connections so as to obviate the difficulty, and in this view he has offered to make an absolute transfer and disposition of all the profits and interest which may be derived from his business while he remains in office—the transfer to be made to three eminent gentlemen as trustees, who shall have absolute disposal of the profits and revenues for the use of the public charities in the city of New York, the trustees to select the charities and be vested with absolute control and power in the matter. Stewart will thereby be divested of any interest whatever in business.

The number of office-seekers increases. Hundreds were at the Capitol to day.

New York News.

The Express says the chief topic of conversation in financial circles to-day, is the political situation in reference to the Cabinet. Early in the day Stewart's resignation was reported, followed quickly by the announcement that Boutwell would succeed him. The next telegram stated that Boutwell's chances were slim that Stewart had requested David A. Wells, and the President had asked until to morrow to consider the subject.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Notices from Washington have been sent to the superintendents of the Albany and Sing Sing prisons, to disregard any document purporting to be a pardon of Eckel or Blaisdell.

There was a conflagration this morning in Dey and West streets. Loss, $90,000.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Pork—quiet at $31 12. Beef, dull—plain, $16, extra, $18 50.

Butter—quiet and firm; Ohio, 38c; State, 55c.

At Liverpool, California wheat 10s 4d.

From Mexico.

HAVANA, March 8.—The steamer from Vera Cruz brings news of a battle between the Nationals, under Alatorere, and the rebels, under Negrete. The latter were routed, but Negrete escaped with a few adherents. Bocundos, with cavalry, was in close pursuit.

Colonel Prieto, implicated in Negrete's move, was captured near Vera Cruz and taken to the city and shot.

The Government is sanguine of crushing the revolt.

The insurrection in Yucatan is over and the ringleaders captured and shot.

Rosecrans has had frequent private interviews with Juarez. It is supposed that questions of great importance are under consideration, and there is much political agitation in the Capital.

BOSTON, March 8.—An official order of the State Department was read by the United States Marshal, on Saturday evening, to disregard the pardon of Morton, the defaulting cashier of the Hide and Leather Bank, but it came too late, as the pardon had been handed to Morton.

Cuban Affairs.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Havana official reports state that the insurgents are disheartened by the recent battle near Puerto Principe, where they lost 1,000 killed and wounded.

The government in assaulting the rebel intrenchments with artillery and the bayonet, lost 31 killed and 80 wounded.

HAVANA, March 8.—The Condus, a British gunboat, and a French steamer which arrived today, report passing in the Bahama channel the Peruvian monitors in tow of steamers, with a Spanish man of war following in their wake.

Puello has left Santa Espiritu and divided his command into three flying columns, to scour the country.

A steamer arrived to-day from Cienfuegos with a number of prisoners, among them four priests.

Sugar is quiet at 9½c to 12c.

Items

HARRISBURG, March 8.—Gov. Geary has signed the death warrant of George S. Twitchell. The execution is to be on April 8th.

ST. JOHNS, N. B., March 8.—The Newfoundland Legislature adopted by a large majority the resolution in favor of confederation.

A German couple appeared before a New Orleans Justice, expecting to get a divorce on the spot. One of the woman's eyes was black and blue and the face of the man was badly scratched. He addressed the Judge as follows: "Look, Judge, look at mein face, and then look at mein wife's. I beat mein wife and mein wife beats me." The wife joined heartily in the plea for a divorce, and both were disgusted that any legal delay was necessary, when the evidence of incompatibility of temper was so direct.

THEIR ANIMUS.—The "conservative" Legislature of Kentucky has voted $5,000 to the widow of the late Governor Helm. That is all right. But when they are asked to vote $2,400 to the widow of the deceased State Treasurer, they refused; and that was not right. The explanation of those apparently inconsistent votes by the same body is, that Helm was a rebel while the Treasurer was a Union soldier.

Lecture by Mr P. B. Du Chaillu

Mr. Paul B. Du Chaillu, the celebrated traveler, the first and as yet only white explorer of Equatorial Africa, delivered one of his popular lectures last evening at the rooms of the American Geographical and Statistical Society, Cooper Institute, before a very large audience, the lecture room being filled to overflowing and the entrance having many [illegible] waiting to hear the words of the lecturer. The occasion was the monthly meeting of the society, Mr. Du Chaillu at the invitation of the society having specially traveled [illegible] engaged [illegible] to be present to read before the Society his paper on "Equatorial Africa."

Judge Daly, President of the society, presided.

The subject of the lecture was "Equatorial Africa, with an Account of the Race of Pigmies and of the Cannibal Tribes." Mr. Du Chaillu gave a brief description of his early desires to travel and his first start towards their accomplishment. After some time he reached the country of the Ashmangoes, an extensive and well peopled country in Equatorial Africa. Here he became very intimate with the King, who was exceedingly friendly to the young European, the first who had visited him in the memory of the oldest inhabitant. This was the point d'appui, from whence he made frequent excursions into the surrounding country. Far to the Eastward he came upon the Bonganboes—a people of very diminutive stature, leading a gypsy life and living upon serpents, mice and the berries of the forest.

The people lived apart from all communication with the surrounding tribes, marrying within themselves, and moving from place to place as whim and fancy directed. They are most excellent trappers of the wild animals that roamed in vast numbers through the impenetrable forests that stretched unexplored distances to the eastward. On the appearance at any time of the people of other tribes these pigmies immediately fled to the fastnesses and coverts of the forest, where it was exceedingly dangerous to follow them, on account of the innumerable number of traps set by them for the capture of game, from the elephant to the wild boar. He was very anxious to learn something of these people, and though his friend, the King of the Ashmangoes had done everything to dissuade him from the attempt, he was not to be led from accomplishing his purpose. Seeing this the King furnished him with some guides, and, attended by his seven followers from the coast, he started on his journey. After some time traveling to the eastward from the country of the Ashmangoes he at last came upon one of the temporary settlements of the Bonganboe pigmies. Upon the approach of himself and party, however, the whole settlement fled, he pursuing. But they had got too good a start of him, and they were in too close proximity of their safe and impenetrable retreats in the dense forest, into which he could not pursue them, and they got safely away. Fortunately, however, a party of seven women and a man were not so quick as the rest of the tribe or had not received the warning to flee in time, and before these could reach the forest they were overtaken and captured. From these specimens it was very easy to judge of the whole tribe. These people lived in huts made by the branches of trees, one end of a branch not more than six feet long being stuck in the ground, and then bent over till the other end could be stuck in the ground in the same way. Other branches were fixed in the same way, and over these were laid branches, and this formed their huts. He measured the women who had failed to escape and he found their height to be four feet four inches to four feet seven inches, and one, a perfect giantess among them, measured five feet and a quarter. Their heads measured from twenty-one to twenty-two inches around. These people were not at all as he expected they would be, apish in form and make. On the contrary, they all presented the appearance of symmetrical, well-built people, like such as lived such a life as theirs—the lives of gypsies. Their heads and part of their bodies were covered with tufts of hair in spots here and there, with no spread of growth. They lived on serpents, mice and the nuts and berries of the forest, and the game they sold to the Ashangoes. They knew nothing of the marriage relation, the sexes living promiscuously—the women being entirely independent and untrammelled in their choice or fancy. They had a very curious custom with relation to the interment of their dead. Whenever they buried any of the tribe they would go to a stream, divert it from its course for a short distance, dig a grave down in the bed of the river then return the stream to its proper course. He did not remain long among these people, for he found it impossible to lure them back to the village while he remained, and as he heard of a great tribe of cannibals to the northward he determined on visiting them. Here he found a race of very tall men. As he entered their villages he beheld numerous upright posts surmounted with skulls, and the street was covered with skulls. The streets were very wide, 100 feet in width, and from a mile to a mile and a half in length. These people were great warriors, but greater cannibals, the dead not being sacred from their ravenous maw. It was not considered right among them to eat the dead of their own family, but a little subterfuge was resorted to so as to get over this little restriction. The living having a dead relative would go to a neighbor and agree to leave their dead friend on the table if the party would agree to return the favor the first time one of their friends died. These manufactured the most splendid weapons—spears, arrows, knives, axes and tomahawks, sharpened like razors. They were a very formidable people and a terror to the tribes the most remote from them and the most difficult to reach.

Mr Du Chaillu kept the interest of his hearers alive to the end, and when he had concluded a vote of thanks through the president was awarded him.—N. Y. Herald, Feb. 9th.

Singular Phenomenon

A very singular phenomenon, and one that has attracted considerable attention and elicited considerable inquiry, occurred in this county on Friday, February 5th. In this locality the day was fair, and no indication of a storm was discernable. The people residing in the western part of the county, however noticed that about noon a dense and peculiar looking cloud was hanging over Bald Hills, about the head of Roaring river. At about three o'clock the residents of Bald Hills, Roaring river, Janesville and Eagle creek, were startled by an explosion so terrifically loud and peculiar in sound as to create general confusion, and fear on the part of some, that the hour of final account had indeed arrived. In several localities in the immediate vicinity of Bald Hills the earth was felt to tremble and vibrate for several seconds after the explosion, leading some to suppose that an earthquake had taken place. Many persons in this town, twenty miles from Bald Hills, heard the explosion, but parties on Roaring river and in the vicinity of Grey's store, affirm that they first heard one very loud report, which was followed by a succession of lesser sounds, resembling the almost simultaneous discharge of artillery. Two men, a white man and an Indian, were attending a ditch at Bald Hills when the phenomenon occurred. The former, who is a man of intelligence and veracity, states that while he and the Indian were passing along the ditch he observed a sudden flash of yellowish light which illuminated everything around, followed by an explosion so loud as to almost stun him. While sounds were still reverberating he cast his eyes upward and beheld something resembling an immense ball of blazing fire fall with great velocity to the earth, producing a shock which caused the earth to tremble beneath his feet. His first impression was that the falling body had struck within a few hundred yards of the place where he was standing, but afterwards concluded that the distance was much greater. For several minutes after the fall of the mysterious body the air was strongly impregnated with a peculiar odor resembling that caused by heat generated by friction in heavy machinery. The Indian on beholding the fall of the fiery mass and immediately fell upon the ground where he remained several minutes with his hands over his eyes, nearly frightened out of his wits. On regaining his feet he started to run, and never stopped until he gained a rancheria several miles distant, where he succeeded in satisfying his copper colored companions that the Great Spirit was very angry with them for some cause.

From what information we have been able to gain in regard to the matter, we conclude that the falling mass was nothing more nor less than an immense aerolite or meteoric body. Efforts will be made to discover the exact locality where it fell, but as a very heavy rain storm occurred during the next few days following its descent, its discovery is doubtful.—Shasta Courier.

Pacific Slope Brevities

Nevada owes $[illegible] and has an annual revenue of $[illegible].

There are two paper mills in California, one at San Rafael and the other at Santa Cruz.

California requires annually fifteen million yards of sacking for grain, and three millions for other purposes.

It is said that there has never yet been a preacher at New Dungeness, W. T. There is quite a population at that place.

The Carson Appeal says that no prospecting can be done at White Pine before May. The working season there cannot be over four months, at longest.

In parts of California the sunflower is raised for the seed, which is manufactured into oil. It is said that a large part of the "linseed" oil in the market is made from sunflower seed.

A Democrat has introduced in the Nevada Legislature an act to prevent Chinese slavery. Just think of it—a dyed-in-the-wool Democrat rushing to the van in the advocacy of Chinese equality. Let us pause and reflect.

At Cisco, on the Central Pacific Railroad, during the late heavy storm that prevailed in California, snow fell to the depth of ten feet in forty-eight hours. It was considered nothing but a petty flaw. The snow sheds stood it well.

Last month the U. S. Assistant Treasurer at San Francisco advertised that he would offer for sale $1,100,000 in gold for currency. Speculators combined to make a good thing out of it, and the gold was not sold. It was sent to New York.

A California paper says the Central Pacific Railway Company don't pay taxes on one-twelfth the real value of their property, and it is all the meaner so to shrink their duty, when we consider that they have been helped to all this property by the liberal gifts of the United States, the State of California, and the counties through which it passes.

Among the letters left by Lieut. Small, who committed suicide at San Francisco recently, was the following, addressed to Thomas Nouges: "I have a few favors to ask of you. Please draw money on inclosed certificate of deposit and use it to pay my funeral expenses. Send my trunk to H. Small, Eugene City, Oregon; my watch and chain to Dr. E. S. Belden, Marysville; my Colt's pistol to Dr. DeWolf, Yreka: also pay damages, if there should be any, to landlady. Please have me buried in the clothes I have on."

A CURIOUS INSTRUMENT.—Some weeks ago we were somewhat startled by an announcement in the military and naval intelligence of the Times, that an instrument which could measure the hundred-thousandth part of a second, was employed by the authorities at Woolwich, in experiments on gunpowder. At the time one might have thought that the leading journal was merely under one of those fits of inaccuracy to which we all are occasionally liable, but having since had an opportunity of examining the instrument in question, I am led to believe that its powers were not overrated. This machine is used for measuring the velocity of a projectile within the bore of a gun, and, as far as I could judge, is quite capable of recording the time that shot, traveling at the rate of 1,000 feet a second, will take to pass over one inch. The apparatus consists of a system of toothed wheel-work, beautifully made, and driven by means of a descending weight. The velocity with which each wheel travels is progressive in the proportion of five to one; that is to say, each wheel travels five times as fast as the one in the rear of it. The last wheel turns a spindle to which six brass discs are attached, each disc being thirty six inches in circumference. When the machine is traveling at full speed these discs move at the rate of about twenty-eight revolutions a second, or in other words, at least one thousand inches a second; an inch of the disc, therefore, represents a thousandth part of a second. The passage of the projectile is recorded on the edge of the disc by means of a spark derived from a Rhumkorff's coil; thus the interval between two sparks denotes the time taken by the projectile in passing over a known distance in which it ruptures two galvanic circuits and [illegible] corresponding number of sparks. Each disc has its own coil, marker and galvanic circuit, by which means the time of passing over five [illegible] spaces can be recorded. The actual rate at which the wheels are moving is ascertained by means of a stop-watch attached to one of the slowly moving wheels. As the thousandth part of a second is represented by an inch on the disc, we can easily understand that the hundredth part of an inch, which is by no means difficult to measure, will represent the hundred thousandth part of a second.—Once a Week.

A "CONSERVATIVE" IN TROUBLE.—The San Francisco Chronicle has the following:

Delos Lake was once a first class radical. We remember to have heard Delos address radical meetings with great unction. Delos was once the pet of the American Flag. The Flag glorified Delos, and published his campaign speeches as Delos intended to deliver them. In process of time Andy Johnson became a power, and Delos mistook him for the coming man and handed in his checks to Johnson. Having been Johnsonized, Delos of course took up the battle-axe against that wicked radical Congress. Delos came back to San Francisco after a brief sojourn at Washington so thoroughly Johnsonized that his friends didn't know him. He had grown owlishly conservative. He was down on radicalism. He wanted to save the country on the Johnson plan. He didn't believe in Congressional reconstruction or negro suffrage. He thought that Thad. Stevens was Antichrist and that "niggers" had no rights that white men are bound to recognize. Delos had no idea, we suspect, that there was to be a new deal of the political cards, and was looking out to secure a good hand. As things have developed themselves, Delos appears to have made a mistake or a miscalculation. Radicalism is still in the ascendant and Andy is shelved. Recent advices from Washington favor the opinion that the irrepressible Pixley is pretty certain to be appointed United States District Attorney for California vice Delos Lake, who loved Johnson's policy, "not wisely, but too well." Pixley will make a first rate District Attorney. It is true that he is liable at times to "slop over," from the enthusiasm of his temperament. But then he is no time server. You always know where to find him. He says what he thinks and means, and is a thoroughly manly man. In these days of time serving and fence-straddling, this is much to say of a man. If Pixley is really after the United States District Attorneyship, we heartily wish him success.

An observing individual, in a very healthy village, seeing the sexton at work in a hole in the ground, inquired what he was doing. "Digging a grave, sir." "Digging a grave! Why, I thought people didn't die often here; do they?" "Oh, no, sir; they never die but once."

PERSIAN GUNS.—The armorers of Persia ll pursue the method of forging gun-barrels hich was used many years ago by Mustapha, celebrated manufacturer, the muskets of hose make now sell for $500, though modn rifles made on his system can be bought r $50. The process of Mustapha, which reembles the "stub and twist" method, is decribed as follows. For the making of a gun, wo old horse-shoes are taken, together with mall pieces of iron, the whole weighing not uite two pounds. In the heating, the small ieces are arranged in such a manner that the horse-shoes form the outer rim. When a roper degree of softness has been attained, they are welded on an anvil. This process is repeated several times, until the iron obtains a length of two feet and a quarter. When welve such bars are obtained, they are bound together and then welded, the bar obtained is cut in pieces of such a size that four or six will form the desired weapon. These bars are then twisted and welded together, the resulting piece is afterward bent and again welded to one bar, which finally is turned and bored. If the barrel proves satisfactory, it is polished, in order that the various twist marks may appear which are produced by the different qualities of iron. It is afterward coated with a paste of two parts of sublimed sulphur and one part of sea salt, and left for twenty-four hours in a warm room, and being cleansed, is then ready for sale.

SKELETON INCAS AND THEIR WIVES.—There is a fine museum in Lima, and one can spend a day pleasantly among its relics and curiosities. Peru was formerly celebrated for its mineral productions, and the assortment of these, the old coins and species of money, are really a great curiosity. Here, too, are the portraits of all the Viceroys and Incas, from the year 1780 up to the present President. And huddled around the room, some in glass cases, and some sitting on a small stand or table only, are dozens of skeletons of old Incas, who buried themselves alive at the coming of the Spaniards, long years ago, as they were foolish enough to believe that after the Spaniards had taken their departure, they would come from the ground as fresh as a toad out of a hole where they had slept for [illegible]. Nearly every one of them is in a sitting posture, his head between his hands, and the expression of the skeleton face is one of horror, strangulation, [illegible], and despair altogether. There are women, too, the wives of the Incas, smothered alive in the same way, and dying in the same belief. Some of the skeleton women clutch skeleton babies; and it is a singular fact in connection with these mummies, that the long black hair of the women streams from the unsightly skulls in perfect preservation.

DETERMINING LONGITUDE.—An observatory is now in process of erection at Salt Lake City, under the direction of the United States Coast Survey, in order to obtain an exact meridian, and for the purpose of determining the difference of longitude at specified points across the continent from Cambridge, Massachusetts, to San Francisco, California. An intermediate station has been established at Omaha, Nebraska, 1,500 miles west of Cambridge. The observatory at Salt Lake City is 1,000 miles west of Omaha, and little [illegible] San Francisco. To obtain the requisite piers for mounting the [illegible] Brigham Young has to send [illegible] to Weber Canyon, and bring the blocks of stone a distance of sixty miles.

The free school of Telegraphy for women, established under the auspices of Western Union Telegraph Company, by the trustees of the Cooper Union, is to open on the 7th of the present month. This is the first attempt, we believe, to furnish women with systematic training in a pursuit for which experience has proved that they possess peculiar qualifications. ### STOW FOUNDATION PAVEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, January 18, 1869.

Hon. Frank McCoppin, Mayor of San Francisco—Dear Sir: You have now been connected with our City Government as Supervisor and Mayor for the past nine years, during which time you must have given a great deal of attention to Street Paving, and I now ask it as a special favor to me, that you give briefly, in writing, the result of your convictions relative to the several styles of street paving now in use in this city. By so doing you will much oblige

Your obedient servant,
H. F. WILLIAMS,
President Stow Foundation Pavement Co.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 20th, 1869.

Henry F. Williams, Esq., President of the S. F. P. Co.—Dear Sir: Your communication of yesterday, requesting me to give in writing my opinion relative to the several kinds of street pavement now in use in this city, is before me, and in reply I would say, that at the time I became a municipal officer of this city in 1860, and for many years thereafter cobble-stone was the only kind of pavement used by the city in its corporate, and by individuals in their individual capacity. About five years ago the Nicolson pavement was introduced here by Mr. J. J. Robbins, assignee of the owner of the patent, and was received with much favor by our citizens. Very many portions of our streets are now paved with the Nicolson Pavement, so-called—still later—that is to say, about two years ago, the "Stow Foundation Pavement" was introduced here by the inventor, and many of our public streets have since been paved with that pavement.

A sufficient length of time has, I think, elapsed, to enable any person who has given the subject any attention, to form an intelligent opinion as to the merits of the respective wooden pavements—of course, I leave the cobble-stones out of view entirely—and I have come to the conclusion, that, in many respects, such as adaptability to our wants and in durability, the Stow is the superior pavement. But, were the two pavements equal in every other respect, the facility with which the Stow can be taken up and relaid, whenever it becomes necessary to displace it for the purpose of laying down gas and water pipes, should, in my judgment, entitle it to preference in public favor.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
FRANK McCOPPIN,
Mayor of the City of San Francisco.

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a [illegible] existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from [illegible] absorbed into the system! Look at their pale, [illegible] ted and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering any of these horrible life-destroying maladies that they are cured for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse, solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, foted breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief is not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never failed effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are [illegible] and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] them is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended [illegible] letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

SEEKING NEW HOMES.—The American people are on the go—never satisfied and never settled. If an American family were living in a first-class cottage in the Garden of Eden, and supplied with fig leaves enough to clothe the whole family for three score years and ten, and all the other [illegible] domestic etceteras, including grub and Jones' prepared coffee, we should wake up some fine morning to find them packing up bag and baggage to emigrate in search of a wild farm in the Land of Nod, or on the acclivity of Mt. Sinnai, with the firm conviction that they were about to better themselves by the change. If you were to talk with the head of the family he would tell you that he wanted to get out somewhere where "the boys" could be made useful and where he could provide each a farm when he should come to marry and "settle down." He would tell you that the central trunk of the Highway of Commerce is sure to run right through that Land of Nod some day, that he expects to profit immensely by the rise in land, sure to follow upon the consummation of that great [illegible]. No use to talk to him about rolling stones and "no moss" and such. He knows better. Any ways he's going to roll and take the chances on the moss. He isn't sure, either, about the value of moss, and he does know that a rolling stone is liable to strike something. The American is heavy on the strike, and talks and thinks more about making a strike than he does about his wife, babies, poor relations, church, State, and his prospects of having comfortable quarters in kingdom-come, all combined. This being one of the prominent characteristics of all true Americans, we are not greatly surprised when we see whole families breaking up comfortable homes in the Wallamet valley where they have sojourned for a fifth of a century, and making tracks for the sage brush, sand and desert districts of Idaho or Wyoming. A small caravan of wagons arrived here yesterday, containing families from some section of the Upper Wallamet, bound for the neighborhood of Boise, where they expect to settle advantageously, in anticipation, we suppose, of the arrival of the cars on the Oregon branch of the Union Pacific Railroad. We can't understand the policy of the move, but we can't stop 'em, we don't want to stop 'em, for it would crush their happiness forever if they couldn't emigrate somewhere; and we don't care about becoming responsible for so much [illegible]. Let 'em go it; there is one consolation—if they go, somebody, some other American from Boise, perhaps, will supply the place of each one of them, and be all the happier for the change.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATION.—The various Hibernian organizations of this city and Vancouver, will join in celebrating St. Patrick's Day, this year, with becoming [illegible], and judging from the advertised arrangements already made, the celebration will be conducted on a grander scale than any of its predecessors. There is to be a procession composed of the Vancouver and Portland Hibernian Benevolent Societies, the Emmet Guard, the [illegible] and Irish citizens generally; appropriate ceremonies at the Catholic Church; an oration at Oro Fino Hall; a collation at the What Cheer House and a ball in the evening for the benefit of the Hibernian Benevolent Society, at the Washington Guard's Armory. If the weather should be fine, the 17th will be a grand gala day for our Irish fellow-citizens—never excelled, perhaps, by any display of the kind in this city. The officers of the day have already been appointed, as follows: President, Mr. P. O. C. Newell; Orator, Capt. J. McCormick; Marshal, Michael Gleeson; Aids to Marshal, Messrs. John Brady and Robert Sinnott. The Committees for the ball in the evening are as follows: Committee of Arrangements—A. Mallon, M. Gleeson, J. Rodgers, W. P. Burke, Wm. Tierney, P. Cahalin; Reception Committee—W. P. Burke, P. B. Sinnott, Jno. [illegible], Patrick Healy, A. Mallon, Wm. Tierney. Floor Managers—P. Cahalin, J. Rodgers, M. Gleeson, D. Kavanagh, Terence Rodgers, B. Barry, Wm. Healy. Music by the Mechanics' Brass Band. Tickets, $2 50.

SALEM ITEMS.—We clip the subjoined items from the [illegible] of yesterday: The ordinance of baptism by [illegible] was administered to seven persons on Sunday last, five candidates being from the Baptist Church and [illegible] the Christian. [illegible] Parties from French Prairie [illegible] that their live ghosts, of which we spoke some few days since, are still [illegible]. They say that it is a light about the size of a [illegible] lamp, and red in color. They [illegible] In addition to our own attorneys attending Circuit Court this week, we notice the presence of [illegible] of Albany; Capt. McCown, of Oregon City; Hons. J. N. Dolph and L. Stout, of Portland; [illegible] City; Judge Whitson, of [illegible] of yesterday: The [illegible] being constant time [illegible] of poison. [illegible] We learn that the O. & C. R. R. Co., East Side, has [illegible] Portland [illegible] no arrangement [illegible] of Salem last week, [illegible] at fifty cents per bushel.

ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION.—The Commercial makes [illegible] the fact that the annual school election will take place on Monday, April 5th, and expresses itself in favor of the reelection of Col. Dennison for director and Judge McCoy as Clerk, in consideration of past invaluable services. We can't say that we have any particular choice for either of those positions, but we trust that the citizens of the district who have a vital interest in the public schools, will turn out to the election and see that the [illegible] scenes enacted at the last election shall not be repeated. The Commercial, which probably speaks authoritatively, says: "Considerable business of importance is to be transacted at this meeting, and a general attendance is especially desired. A direct tax will be levied for the support of the schools and other purposes, for the coming year. A vote will also be taken upon the [illegible] tax for the purchase of [illegible] and the erection thereon of suitable buildings for [illegible]."

WEATHER RECORD FOR FEBRUARY.—Mr. Thomas Pearce [illegible] the Unionist, his weather record for [illegible] We find that the 1st, 3d and 6th, [illegible] were rainy days, seven in number. We [illegible] the 5th, 12th, 16th, 17th and 19th [illegible] month was clear, sixteen in number; [illegible] 11th and 13th to 28th [illegible] was noticed [illegible] snow mixed with rain, fell on the [illegible] all rain in the lowlands. The mean [illegible] 79°, the highest temperature [illegible] the lowest 31°. The 20th was the coldest day and the 28th was the warmest. It will be observed [illegible] unusual to find a strong north wind [illegible] so many days and at such high [illegible] We naturally, under such circumstances, [illegible] weather, especially during the winter [illegible]

[illegible] NOTICE.—Mr. P. Thayer, of the [illegible] Company, gave a Shakespearian reading at Salem last [illegible] night, of which the Unionist speaks in [illegible] terms. It says: "The entertainment given by the talented tragedian was second to none ever [illegible] audience, and any person who ever read [illegible] of this greatest of authors, could but readily [illegible] into the very spirit of him when listening to the [illegible] His elocution and delivery is unexceptional, and [illegible] forcibly of the popular style of Murdock, [illegible] this coast some years ago."

[illegible] for the last two or three weeks has [illegible] a realization of Coleridge's idea:

Winter, slumbering in the open air,
Wears on his smiling face the look of Spring.

These days, with their warm sun and soft breezy air, [illegible] aspect and feeling of May. By looking at the [illegible] shrubbery, a thousand little verdant [illegible] seen making their way as fast as possible [illegible] destined, perhaps, to be bitten like other [illegible] for the season of frost is not yet safely [illegible]

[illegible]—The administration of [illegible] "coroner's quest [illegible] in this county. Cause, "crowner." [illegible] plating suicide will please take notice that [illegible] with their mad project the highly interesting and learned proceedings had at inquests [illegible] them. If they want to go to shuffle [illegible] coil, under such circumstances, all we [illegible] that while we may admire their pluck, we [illegible] either their [illegible]

[illegible] of books from the Portland Library [illegible] this morning. The following new books [illegible] added to the Library: Keith's Memoirs [illegible] by Smyth; Jesus of Nazareth—His [illegible] Teachings, by Abbott; A [illegible] about Dominies, [illegible] Old World in its New Face, by Bellows; [illegible] Things of Scripture, by Kip; The Christ[illegible] Rome, by Kip; Overland Monthly, [illegible]

THE NEW THEATER.—The improvements in progress [illegible] Oro Fino Theater are nearly completed. As the work goes on, the advantages of the changes being made, become more apparent. Standing at the extreme end of the [illegible] one can not only look down upon the [illegible] the distance seems scarcely more than half [illegible] It is anticipated that it will be, also, [illegible] be better to hear what is said upon the stage.

CIRCUIT COURT—UPTON, JUDGE.—The entire day, yesterday, was consumed in taking testimony in the case of the State of Oregon vs. Jas. Connolly, indicted for the [illegible] of "Buckskin Bill." The jurymen were taken [illegible] a body by the Sheriff to view the ground where the [illegible] took place. The case will probably be concluded [illegible]

RUMORS ABOUT RAILROADS.—There were afloat, yesterday, some exciting rumors concerning railroad matters, but as they were not traceable to any reliable authority we prefer not to give them publicity. One gentleman [illegible] could give us an exciting item or two, but that he [illegible] under a temporary injunction of secrecy.

OVERLAND.—Mr. Augustus Taylor, of this city, started some time since overland to the States, but happened to be [illegible] those who were stopped by the great snow [illegible] on the plains. He telegraphed from Salt Lake City [illegible] that the road is now open, and that he would start again yesterday.

THE MANIA [illegible]—One of the Salem boys being here [illegible] the velocipedes broke loose, bought one of the critters and took it home with him. An exhibition [illegible] Commercial street, created a greater sensation, says the Unionist, than even the famous "extra [illegible]" of the Democratic Rump.

SECOND CONCERT.—The announcement is made, in our [illegible] columns, this morning, that Miss Octavia [illegible] will give her second vocal and instrumental concert at Oro Fino Hall, next Thursday evening, the 18th instant, assisted by some of the best musical talent in the city.

[illegible]—Mr. Shanahan brought up several [illegible] and striking cases of the Grecian Bend [illegible] be seen in his show window.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, JUDGE.—This court convened yesterday morning but without transacting any business of importance, adjourned till next Saturday.

THE STEAMER.—We learn through a private source that the steamer Continental sailed from San Francisco for Portland at 4 P. M. yesterday.

The Prospector

There is a class of men peculiar to our new mineral territories, to whom the world has not done justice. In truth, they are but little known individually, though in the aggregate they have accomplished wonderful things. I speak of those vagrant spirits commonly called "prospectors," who never make anything for themselves, but are always on the move to make fortunes for other people. Regular miners, traders and speculators belong to an entirely different genus. They come in after the way is opened, but with them the spirit of adventure is not a controlling power. They are no more to be compared with the genuine "prospector" than the money-lenders of merchants and artisans who followed over to the new world in the track of that great Columbus are to be named in the same day with that renowned discoverer.

The prospector is a man of imagination. He is a poet, though not generally aware of the fact. Ragged and unshaven, he owns millions, yet seldom has two dimes in his pocket—for his wealth lies in the undeveloped wilds. The spirit of unrest burns in his blood. He scorns work, but will endure any amount of hardship in his endless search for rich lands. There is no desert too barren, no tract of Indian tooth stile, no climate too rigorous for his researches. From the rugged canyons of Toiyabe he roams to the arid waters of the Great Basin. Hunger, thirst, chilling snows and scorching sands seem to give him new life and inspiration.

It matters nothing that he discovers "a good thing"—a mass of ledges worth say a million a piece—this is well enough, but he wants something better, and after a day or two spent in "locating claims," he is off again—nobody knows where—often with scarcely provision enough to last him back to the settlements. He travels on mule back, when he happens to own a mule; on foot when he must, with company when any offers; without when there is none; any way to be driving ahead, discovering new regions and locating claims. He locates so many claims that he forgets where his possessions are located. If he discovered a ledge of pure silver, he would die in a week if he had to work it on his own account. His industry runs in an another direction. Variety is the spice of his existence, the motive power of his life.—J. Ross Browne.

NEW YORK AND VICINITY.—The New York correspondent of the San Francisco Times says:

The rise of real estate in this city, Brooklyn, Jersey City, Hoboken and Williamsburgh is really fearful, and increasing all the time. Men who, four or five years ago were comparatively poor, have become millionaires from the rapid rise in the value of their lots in the vicinity of the Central Park, and even in Hoboken. I heard yesterday of a Dutchman who, in 1863, gave $800 for a piece of property at Union Hill selling it a short time since for $25,000! I think this beats any of my real estate experiences. A well known lawyer here, three years ago paid $80,000 for his house and lot—size of lot 45 by 125. Last week he refused $250,000 for it. Where it will end Heaven only knows, but there are those here who believe that the same style of thing is in store for San Francisco, upon the completion of the Pacific railway, about next July. So hooray for the completion, say I.

NATIONAL BUREAU OF STATISTICS.—General Francis A. Walker, for some time connected with the editorial department of the Springfield (Mass.) Republican, is to take charge of the statistical work of the Revenue Department under Mr. Wells. He is said to possess qualities of industry, intelligence, and knowledge of finance that will make his services of great value there. Delmar retires. Conducted by a thinker, the bureau of statistics must prove of great national value.

THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE says the reason why PLANTATION BITTERS are so generally used is owing to the fact that they are always made up to the original standard and of pure material, let the price be what it will. The Tribune just hits the nail on the head, for Plantation Bitters are not only made of pure material, but the people are told what they are made of, as the receipt is wrapped around each bottle. Don't go home without a bottle.

The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. # The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 10, 1869.

State and Federal Courts.

We learn that the County Commissioners have declined to pay the fees of Thomas Smith of Auburn, who was summoned here as a witness in the case of the State of Oregon vs D. F. Fox, which was tried last week before his Honor, Judge Upton. The costs in the case are very heavy. Mr. Smith's fees alone amounting to about $150. Suit will be brought against the county to compel the payment of the fees, unless the Commissioners reconsider their decision.

We have mentioned this matter as preliminary to remarking that in our opinion the trial of Fox in the State Court was an erroneous proceeding. The offence alleged was, if committed at all, clearly an offence against the United States and not against the State of Oregon. The gold dust, if stolen, was stolen from the United States mails, and the statutes of the United States provide a mode of trial and a heavy penalty for such crimes. An attempt was made to prove that the gold dust was stolen from the post office in this city. If so, it was, at the time it was stolen, clearly and entirely in the custody of the United States. The crime is one punished by the laws of the United States and not by the laws of the State of Oregon. If the State Court may take jurisdiction in such a case as this, it may in any other where an offence is committed against the United States. But we do not propose now to argue the matter. The only result of this interference (as we deem it) by the State with the business of the United States has been to entail heavy costs on the county; and it would seem that the proceeding is still to go on. We believe in the doctrine of allowing the State and General Governments to attend respectively to their legitimate business. The Government of the United States is not lifted above the people; it rests upon and deals with them; it enacts its statutes, prescribes its penalties and enforces its laws. It is competent to punish any offence which may be committed against its laws, and does not entrust its business to the management of the States. As it rests upon the people, so it deals directly with individual offenders. It has provided Courts to administer its laws, and the dividing line between its duties and those of the States is so clear that as a general rule there is little excuse for mistaking it.

Need of Laboring Force.

It is [illegible] that we want capital from abroad to prosecute and promote industrial enterprises in Oregon, and so we do; but capital [illegible] not be imported to alone build up the prosperity of the State. We want more labor to make capital right among us. The future g[illegible] and prosperity of our State depends even more upon acquisitions being made to its laboring force than to the introduction and investment of capital. Both are necessary, however, to [illegible] in that important position, industrially and commercially, which the natural resources of the State warrant us in believing we will reach. Every branch of industry in the Pacific States and Territories is yet shackled for want of labor. Our great need is an increase in the producing force. Diversified labor is the only thing that will build us up. That labor is most valuable that is most varied. Says a California contemporary: "It not only turns out more useful products, builds up more towns and makes society self-sustaining, but it develops more faculties of the mind and creates more general intelligence. For this [illegible] every State and section of the country should manufacture all it can. Instead of growling about our tariff let us [illegible] for [illegible] varied [illegible] of manufacture with a chance of success. Considering the amount of the debt, we may safely say that [illegible] need to fear want of [illegible] against foreign competitors. The protection [illegible] is likely to last for some time [illegible] period we can successfully [illegible] and building up a va[illegible] industry—agricultural, [illegible] and commercial [illegible] will be a gain, [illegible] for whatever temporary tax or [illegible] may be involved [illegible]. We want manufactures where [illegible], and of what [illegible], we can get [illegible]. Plant the manufactory as near as possible to the raw material, and there work out the ulti[illegible] form which is needed by the consumer, thus saving the transportation of the grosser or useless parts of the native product." Give us more labor, and a new era would dawn in the development of wealth; all pursuits and professions would expand into [illegible] and more enduring proportions; manufactures would spring up, commerce increase, and the State rise to a foremost position [illegible] and prosperity.

[illegible].—Here is a problem for the Herald. The interest bearing securities which formed the old national debt amounted in 1781 to $30,000,000. In 1784 they amounted to $44,000,000. In 1788 they amounted to $50,000,000. In 1790 they amounted to $54,000,000. In the year last named the Government assumed State debts to the amount of $21,500,000 and funded the Federal and State debts together, when the whole amounted to $75,500,000. This debt, as funded, was paid to the last dollar. Now, as the debt after it was funded exactly equalled the amount of the Federal debt before it was funded, plus the amount of State debts that were assumed and funded with it, will the Herald explain how, by the funding act, one-third of the debt was repudiated? Here is a problem in simple arithmetic for that paper. But no doubt the Herald is by this time of opinion that it might as well give up the attempt to prove that the Revolutionary debt was "scaled down" one-third. It is a hard job to find a precedent for repudiation where no precedent exists. History stubbornly refuses to accommodate itself to such a purpose. The Herald would save much trouble in future by consulting better authorities than the New York World, and by obtaining some knowledge of a subject before it attempts to enlighten the public upon it.

THE TEMPERANCE QUESTION.—There are many proofs that in Northern beer-swilling and rum-drinking countries dypsomania is frightfully on the increase, while in the Southern vine lands there is little drunkenness. Dr. Bellows particularly noticed this during his late tour in Europe. In his Old World in its New Face, he records that in the north of Europe the consumption of both whisky and beer is increasing, even to an alarming degree, while in wine producing localities inebriety is seldom seen. "It is much to be regretted," he says, "that the friends of temperance have of late been trying to unsettle the opinion that drunkenness is rare in the vine-growing countries. It is so patent in France and in Germany, (it is Rhineland he refers to here,) that intemperance in the form of drunkenness is a most exceptional vice, that only willful blindness or partisanship could deny it. I do not recollect to have seen one tipsy man since I left Paris, and only one in Paris, and I have diligently sought the places where, in our country, they would be found. The truth is, wine is one of the most common and one of the most beautiful gifts of Providence, an article joined with corn in the praises of the saints. The countries which possess it understand its use and are just as little subject to excess in using wine as in using corn."

Affairs at Washington.

It is probable that several days will elapse before Cabinet matters are finally settled. Good feeling appears to prevail at Washington, and no doubt there will be a harmonious and satisfactory adjustment of the disarrangement caused by Stewart's ineligibility. The President when he nominated Stewart was clearly unaware that he was ineligible, but as the law on the subject is a very old one, the mistake was one very liable to be made. But it was an error to ask its repeal for a special purpose, and Congress ought not to reply. In other respects the President commences well. He is beginning to fire some center shots into the foul brood foisted in office by Johnson, for which he has the thanks of the country. It is not worth while to become excited over the "situation," as everything at Washington is tranquil and the course of affairs will soon begin to run smooth. It will naturally take a little time to accommodate matters and get things into working order.

"INNOVATIONS."—At a late woman's rights meeting in New York, a speaker replied to the objection against woman suffrage, that it would be a dangerous innovation, and disturb the venerable traditions. The speaker said: "About the year 1790, women were first recognized as school teachers in Massachusetts. At that time, the New England 'school marm' was a revolutionary innovation. She has been abroad ever since, and has been by no means the least efficient, but always the most modest and unnoticed of the great civilizing influences in this country. Innovation!—why, when Sir Samuel Romilly proposed to abolish the death penalty for stealing a handkerchief, the law officers of the Crown said it would endanger the whole criminal law of England. When the bill abolishing the slave trade passed the House of Lords, Lord St. Vincent rose and stalked out, declaring that he washed his hands of the ruin of the British empire. When the Greenwich pensioners saw the first steamer on the Thames, they protested that they did not like the steamer, for it was contrary to nature. When, at the close of the reign of Charles II., London had half a million of people, there was a fierce opposition to street lamps—such is the hostility of venerable traditions to an increase of light. When Mr. Jefferson learned that New York had explored the route of a canal, he benignly regarded it, in the spirit of our committee, as, doubtless, 'defensible in theory;' for he said that it was 'a very fine project, and might be executed a century hence.' And, fifty-six years ago, Chancellor Livingston wrote from this city that the proposition of a railroad, shod with iron, to move heavy weights four miles an hour, was ingenious, perhaps 'theoretically defensible;' but, upon the whole, the road would not be so cheap or convenient as a canal. In this country, the venerable traditions are used to being disturbed. America was clearly designed to be a disturber of traditions, and to leave nobler precedents than she found."

Small Notes.

Beriah's paper for last week seems not to come up to the standard which he has established. We have looked in vain through its columns for the usual account of himself, his pedigree, his services, his sacrifices, the distinguished men with whom he has been acquainted, etc., etc. But such an omission will probably not occur again.

In one of the issues of the New York Democrat Brick Pomeroy expresses himself as follows concerning the financial plans of Congress: "Stupid stuff, all these plans that are introduced in Congress. If the Democratic party takes the helm of affairs it will make short work with the National debts, it will wipe them out with a wet sponge."

Speaking of the projected improvement of the Delaware river, the Philadelphia Press says: "The remedy that most naturally presents itself to a practical mind is to conduct the channel of the river to the shortest line between the two points of the bend, and keep it there by narrowing the stream to the requirements for the direct passage of the water, allowing no room for eddies or deposits." Will not this suggestion apply to the improvement of the Wallamet?

Says the Herald: "The example of Governor Baker, of Indiana, in ordering elections to supply the vacancies occasioned by the resignation of the Democratic members, we commend to the favorable consideration of George L. Woods." Does the Herald suppose that if Indiana had a Democratic Governor he would order elections? He would never do it. He would hold out to the crack of doom before he would do a thing which the Republicans might want him to do.

The Sacramento Union observes that the San Francisco Times is talking about a "right" to be naturalized. There is no such right; naturalization is a privilege wholly within the control of the Government conceding it. Nor is it a privilege either given to or asked for by a foreign Government, as the Times argues, it is for the individual immigrant, and we are obliged to make treaties to prevent the foreign Government from violating this privilege. The Times naturally slips into the further absurdity of alleging that our treaty with China is intended to bind us to treat the Chinese well after they are naturalized! That is, a foreign nation binds us by treaty to treat our own citizens well! That is something new, indeed! But, utterly absurd as it is, it is a legitimate inference from the Times' view of the Chinese treaty.

The Roseburg paper says: "Cox, formerly of Josephine county, passed through this place last week, on his way to attend the meeting of 'irresponsible ruffians' styling themselves the Legislature of Oregon. As he is now a farmer in this county, and has resided here long enough to gain a residence and be entitled to vote if an election were held, it may be a question of some importance whether he can still represent the county which elected him, of which he is no longer a citizen." There are several cases of this kind. Quite a number of Democrats claiming to be members of the Legislature have no "local habitation," and represent nobody. Two that we know of, from an eastern county, have lived in Portland since last October, one of them engaged in selling whisky and the other in selling potatoes. Yet they were both on hand, with Cox, at the "March session."

DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

DATES TO MARCH 9.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—In the Senate, Conkling introduced a bill for prohibiting secret sales or purchase of gold for the government, which was referred.

A bill supplementary to the currency act was referred.

A bill granting Mrs. Lincoln an annual pension of $3,000, was referred to the Pension Committee.

The standing committees were announced, and a joint committee ordered, to consist of four from each House, to examine all applications for relief from political disabilities.

Morton offered a joint resolution to refund to the States the interest and discount on money borrowed to equip and supply troops for the United States service. Referred to the Military Committee.

The bills heretofore tabled were appropriately referred.

The District of Columbia equal rights bill pocketed by the late President, was taken up and passed.

The Rev. John Herman was elected Chaplain.

Pomeroy introduced a bill to further secure equal rights in the District of Columbia, and providing for female suffrage.

Robertson introduced a constitutional amendment. Adjourned.

Washington News.

CHICAGO, March 9.—The Tribune says the President has removed all the Pacific Railroad Commissioners except Williams.

Stewart proposes to make an absolute transfer of all the interests and profits derived from his business during his term of office to three trustees, and the proceeds to go to public charities in New York. Many persons think this proposition absurd and impracticable.

Washburne has forwarded his resignation of his seat in Congress to the Governor of Illinois, that a new election may be ordered. The usual notice of his acceptance of Secretary of State has been forwarded to the Diplomatic Corps, and they are severally invited to call at their convenience. It is certain that he won't remain long in the Department, and there is special reason for believing that the President intends giving him the French mission.

Grant yesterday revoked the pardons which had been issued by his predecessor to Jacob and Moses Dupuy, also to Enright, and directs the immediate and prompt dismissal of Binkley from the Revenue Bureau. He further directs the revocation of all orders staying the proceedings against Fullerton, so that individual will be brought to trial.

The Senate Republican caucus has decided to have a joint standing committee for the removal of all political disabilities, and further resolved that it is not expedient to enter upon general legislation at the present session. It was decided to consider the tenure of office repealing bill and the bill to strengthen the public credit, and that looking to a new election in Virginia.

The offices of Consul at Paris and London have been abolished, and consulates general will be established at those points.

The White House was opened to the public yesterday and great crowds of office seekers attended, but none saw the President. Persons with no particular business, were told that General Grant would have no time for seeing them for several weeks. All minor appointments will be made through the heads of departments.

The Tribune's special says Leyman Tremain is thought to have a good chance for the Attorney-Generalship, should Hoar withdraw.

Gold advanced on the news of Stewart's withdrawal.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A Washington special says that Boutwell has declined the Treasuryship, and that the Postmastership, Attorney Generalship and then the Secretary of State were offered to Wilson, of Iowa, but he declined to accept any of them.

Another dispatch says Boive does not wish any office.

The same dispatch says that Stewart, at a late hour last night, decided to resign.

CHICAGO, March 9.—Casserly is appointed on the Committees on Foreign Relations, Public Land and Printing.

Case under the Civil Rights Act.

NEW YORK, March 9.—A case under the Civil Rights Act came before the Court of Common Pleas to-day. Harriet Jacobs, a colored woman, sued the Atlantic Navigation Company in $5,000 damages for refusing to allow her to occupy a first cabin of a steamship.

The N. Y. Herald's Twaddle.

The Herald says the war against the Administration has already begun, and urges Grant not to yield to a faction of Radical politicians, but to stick to the appointment of Stewart and make a fight over him, to test the loyalty in Congress to his Administration. The people will sustain him and the President will rally all the conservative elements of the country to his support.

Other Items.

Judge Hoar, the new Attorney-General, passed through here for Washington, yesterday.

The Common Council refused to receive a committee of the Workingmen's Union, who sought to have the corporation printing transferred to some firm willing to pay the Printers' Union prices. A mass meeting of working men is to be held.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

MADRID, March 8.—The Government barracks were partially burned yesterday by an incendiary.

In the Cortes to day, Serrano and Prim both said they were in favor of granting pardon to all persons condemned for violation of the laws regulating the public press.

LONDON, March 8.—In the Commons to day the First Lord of the Admiralty announced that the Government will be able to reduce the naval estimates £1,000,000.

MADRID, March 8.—The Cortes yesterday had a stormy debate on the future form of government. The Republicans demanded the removal of Marshal Montepensier, and accused the Government of trying to smuggle him into the country as King. Prim defended Montepensier. Toppete preferred Montepensier as king to a Republic. Serrano defended the course of the Government. Choosing a ruler had been left to the Cortes, but this Republican pressure on the Chamber was wrong.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 9.—A fight occurred to day on board the old steamer Senator between chief officer Scott and a sailor named Chas. Nicholson. Nicholson was discharged yesterday from the steamer, and came aboard to day, drunk, and would not leave. Scott set upon and beat him fearfully, and ended by knocking him down a hatchway, ten feet, into the boiler room. Scott is in jail. Nicholson is dangerously hurt.

Wm. Ward and James Breeze got into a fight in a saloon at the corner of Harrison and Spear streets, last night, during which Breeze stabbed Ward four times, the knife penetrating the liver. Ward will probably die. Breeze is in prison.

A boy named David Williams was knocked down and run over by a horse and buggy near the corner of Third and Market streets, last night, and seriously injured.

The ship Resolute, now discharging at Cornell's wharf, has six complete locomotives, a large amount of railroad material and 200 miles of telegraph wire, all for the Central Pacific railroad.

Mahler & Lebenbaum filed their creditors' petition in the U. S. District Court yesterday. They aver that they are creditors of R. Solomon, who owes them $82,759 in gold coin, on account of goods, wares, etc., sold and delivered to said Solomon, wherefore they pray that Solomon be declared bankrupt. A warrant was issued to take possession of his estate in order that his property may be justly distributed.

Yesterday the San Francisco Daily Herald Co. filed a certificate of incorporation. Capital stock $200,000, in $1,000 shares. Trustees, Sam H. Butterworth, Lafayette Maynard and Eugene L. Sullivan. Among the stockholders are John B. Felton, I. Friedlander, A. W. McPherson, Mark L. McDonald, Wm. Hays, Wm. T. Wallace and Jas. O'Neil.

The White Pine Associates have organized with a capital stock of $11,000 in $1,000 shares. The trustees are H. C. Hemmaway, J. E. Battelle, R. Shinney, S. Pinkham and W. E. Wood.

Mining Stocks.

Mining stocks this morning generally weak, nearly all descriptions showing a decline. Ophir, $37; Gould & Curry, 111; Savage, 69½; Chollar 171; Hale & Norcross, 90; Crown Point, 7½; Yellow Jacket, 64½; Imperial, 103½; Kentuck, 261; Alpha, 45½; Occidental, 30.

Monetary.

Gold in New York, 131¼@131¼.

New York and Liverpool Markets.

Liverpool wheat, 10s 3d.

Wheat quiet and weak at $1 53.

Flour dull and nominal at $7@10.

San Francisco Markets.

Flour—city brands unchanged.

Wheat—quiet at $1 45@1 50 for ordinary to fair, $1 55@1 60 for fair to good and $1 60 to 1 65 for good to choice.

Barley—$2 10@2 20 for brewing and $1 80@2 10 for feed.

Oats—good, Oregon, $2 12½; very choice do $2 20, quotable at $2 25@2 28; California quotable at $1 75@2 15.

Shipping.

Arrived—steamer California, 3 days and 10 hours from San Louis Obispo.

Sailed—brig T. W. Lucas, Port Ludlow; bkt'n Aleo, Burrard Inlet.

From Placerville.

PLACERVILLE, March 9.—S. W. Swan, the proprietor of the toll road on the summit of the Placerville route, has sent up a large force of men to open this road. It will probably accommodate travel by the last of this week, unless very severe storms follow, and will be kept open the balance of the season.

NEVADA DISPATCH.

VIRGINIA, March 9.—Wells, Fargo & Co., last evening, shipped twenty bars bullion, weighing 1,1[illegible] pounds and valued at $30,766 06.

W. B. [illegible] was robbed Saturday night on the hills, of $5[illegible], by two road agents. Two individuals, supposed to be the parties are under arrest.

A fire at Dayton yesterday forenoon, destroyed the stable and corral of J. W. Davids. Seven teams, horses, harness, and a lot of hay were consumed. Loss, $2,000.

Woodruff & Ennor start three six horse stages for White Pine on the 20th of this month, and under the influence of fine weather the departures for White Pine have increased. The stage accommodations are inadequate.

Dividends are declared in the Occidental, of two dollars per share payable on the 10th. Savage, four dollars, payable on the 11th. Yellow Jacket, five dollars, payable on the 15th.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, March 8.—Application has been made to the Government by capitalists for a lease of the Meadows on Williams' Creek for mining purposes. The matter, on being submitted to the miners, was opposed.

SEATTLE, March 8.—The grand jury at Port Townsend, last week, found a true bill against Thomas Rowland, for the murder of William Craig, on Whidbey's Island, last December.

The Washington Lake Coal Company are building additional barges for the transportation of coal from their mine to this port, via Black river. The ships Intrepid and Panther, and bark Buena Vista, are now loading at Teekalet.

Railroad Matters.

The Roseburg Ensign of March 6th has the following account of the railroad survey now in progress in Douglas county:

Mr. Wm. B. Daniels, agent of the Oregon Central Railroad Company—east side—in securing the right of way for the road in this State, was at this place on Wednesday last on business pertaining to the railroad. He informed us that the parties now engaged in surveying and locating the route in the northern part of this county consist of thirteen men. Burrage and McCall are the engineers. The latter named gentleman was one of Elliott's party in making a survey over this route several years ago.

The party are making a thorough and final survey and location, and so far as they have gone, the route is said to be ready for the graders. They have been about three weeks in Douglas county and are just passing out of the Yoncalla valley, via Cabin Creek. They have decided to follow Cabin Creek to its mouth, and to cross the Calapooia creek about half a mile below the village of Oakland.

Mr. Daniels states that he has generally found the farmers along the route to be men who appreciate the advantages of a railroad, and cheerfully grant the right of way through their farms. A few instances of obstinate and persistent opposition have been met with, in which the aid of the law will be invoked to secure a passage for the road.

We observe that the opposition journals are already having a recurrence of some of their old "spells," occasioned by the appointment of Sheridan to the command in Louisiana. He is a man to wake up rebels and Democrats. We have never supposed that they would be satisfied with Grant's Administration.

ENTERPRISE TRIUMPHANT.—The OREGON DISPENSARY is establishing a reputation second to no house on the coast as a first class and Cheap Drug Store.

Our success has been so flattering that we have sent for another Apothecary. We have also secured the valuable services of Dr. J. A. CHAPMAN as Consulting Surgeon and Physician, thus giving evidence of our desire to afford the best of everything to our patrons for their liberal patronage.

LORYEA & KALLENBERG,
73 First street.

OPPOSITION LINE OF STEAMERS.—A private letter from San Francisco says that a strong and well regulated Steamship company was formed in that city for the purpose of running a line of steamers regularly between San Francisco and Portland. The steamers are known to be suitable for the Oregon trade, and are noted for good speed and splendid passenger accommodation. The people of Oregon will have an opportunity of showing whether they are willing to patronize good and staunch steamers, at a reasonable price for freight and passage, as it will depend on the patronage these steamers will receive whether they will remain in our waters or not.

While you think of opposition, remember that KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have the finest stock of Clothing and Dry Goods, and sell at very low prices.

DIED:

In Washington county, Feb. 15, 1869, of Consumption, Sarah Catherine, daughter of Mr. Caleb Wilkins, aged 20 years, 3 months and 15 days.

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these timekeepers.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enable them to produce watches, COMBINING THE BEST AND LATEST IMPROVEMENTS, and at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch, merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. B. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore, easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.
